Wondering where you can buy Ontario Garlic?
The Toronto Garlic Festival has got you covered!

Introducing The Garlic Map

Available here: <http://www.torontogarlicfestival.ca/where-to-buy-ontario-garlic/>

(Toronto - August 11, 2014) Many people ask, "Where can I find Ontario garlic?" Now, The Toronto Garlic Festival has made the quest very easy by creating The Garlic Map. The Garlic Map shows where to buy Ontario-grown garlic.

Hundreds of locations include farmers' markets, farm stores and grocery stores, from Kenora to Kingston and Temiskaming Shores to Toronto. After the summer harvest the map shows hundreds of locations across the province to buy Ontario-grown garlic. The map is updated throughout the year.

To find the map go to <http://www.torontogarlicfestival.ca/where-to-buy-ontario-garlic/>

Or search "Ontario garlic" in any internet search engine. In the map search box enter your postal code or address to find your nearest location to buy garlic.

Real garlic lovers will want to come to the Toronto Garlic Festival on Sunday, September 21, 2014 at Evergreen Brick Works, where they can stock up on rare heirloom varieties while tasting delicious garlic dishes prepared by local chefs. Details at www.torontogarlicfestival.ca.

The Garlic Map is generously supported by Carrot Cache. Carrot Cache funds worker co-operatives as well as groups who are interested in local, organic agriculture and community food strategies. By investing in these new ventures Carrot Cache hopes to grow the sector and help sustain the web of connections and co-operative infrastructure to strengthen regional food economies.
